(October 1999 Action for Libraries newsletter)

By James Speed Hensinger

H.W. Wilson has joined with BCR to offer a 60-day trial and new group subscription to multiple Wilson databases. All the databases include full text.

Libraries can sign up for the BCR trial any time between October 1 and November 15. BCR's H.W. Wilson group subscription will run from December 1, 1999, through December 31, 2000; for the first year, libraries subscribing from the beginning will get 13 months' access for BCR's regular annual price. In subsequent years, BCR's Wilson group subscription will run for 12 months, January 1- December 31. Enrollment is open year round.

The BCR H.W. Wilson group subscription will provide member libraries with unlimited access to the Wilson databases they select for the same price they would normally pay for one-to-five simultaneous-user access. The databases included in BCR's group subscription are:
